NATIONAL TRAIN DAY

Saturday, May 10th, was National Train Day. Like many others, SLORRM was celebrating the 145th anniversary of the Golden Spike Ceremony at Promontory Point, which created the nation's first transcontinental railroad.

Hundreds of people came to the Museum to view our exhibits, watch the passing trains, shop the swap meet, learn about the exquisite train models being built in the facility, take speeder rides, eat hot dogs and ice cream, and just generally have a wonderful time talking about trains. Most of our Docents and Board Members were on board for this event, and we all enjoyed it as much as our visitors. Thanks to all the Docents who were on duty. This is a great group of people who enjoy talking about the Museum and trains in general. If you would like to join our congenial docent group, just contact Diane at media@slorm.com. We would love to have you join us and will provide you with all the information and training you need.

NEW SLORRM WEBSITE

If you haven't checked out our wonderful new website, take a moment ASAP and go to slorrm.com. We were fortunate enough to get Jamie Foster, a remarkable webmaster, to design a completely new and improved website for the Museum. Jamie is knowledgeable about websites but also about trains, so he was the perfect choice to do this job for us. In addition to that, he is a photographer who knows just how to get those interesting pictures that you want to look at. He is incorporating many of them on the website. It is still a work in progress, but it is thrilling to see what a great job he has already done. We welcome your comments and ideas so let us know what you think. Thanks for the input!

Next work day is Saturday, June 7th, from 9 am to 1 pm.
The SLO Ombudsman's group has scheduled a tour at 1 pm.

Next open day is Saturday, June 14th, from 10 am to 4 pm. Docents please check your schedule to see what your assignment is for the day. Any extra docents who would like to be there are welcome!
